PRODUCT OVERVIEW

42C9412: IBM 42C9412 IBM 42C9412 X3650 HEAT SINK The IBM 42C9412 X3650 Heat Sink, a critical component designed to efficiently dissipate heat from your IBM servers, ensuring optimal performance and longevity. This reliable heat sink is perfect for maintaining your server's temperature under demanding workloads, preventing potential overheating issues that could disrupt your operations. With a standard 90-day warranty from us, you can feel confident in your purchase, and for those looking for extended protection, we offer various maintenance plans. Our entire inventory is rigorously tested, guaranteeing that each part is ready for immediate deployment. Plus, with the added benefit of bulk discounts and our ability to buy back excess IBM Servers for cash or trade-in, it's an excellent investment for maintaining your server infrastructure efficiently. Trust Mike Kozicky and our experienced IBM product team to support your hardware needs with over 1.3 million systems and parts readily available. IB.
